STINGING WORDS FROM GULBERSON

at this moment; but for me to say so publicly would amount to an investigation of revolt and therefore I cannot say it.

Private and Public Instigation. "From this remarkable letter," concluded the speaker, "it seems evident that when it was written the president was advised of the contemplated secession of Panama, which culminated November 3, and it is equally evident that this information came from an authoritative source, for he considered and cast aside a proposition to foment the movement. While the letter in some respects is characteristic of the frankness and courage for which the president is distinguished, it exhibits also his rashness and his contemptuous disregard of the rights of others when his purposes are involved. Writing privately to one who is publicly fomenting secession, his restless ambition creates a distinction between private and public instigation of conspiracy and revolution, and contributes by his name and exalted position to the dismemberment of a republic."

Special to The Bulletin. Mound City, Oct. 20.—The Casey towhead lawsuit, an action of forcible entry and detainer brought by the attorneys of the owners of the property, namely, the heirs of the late Dr. Newton R. Casey, against Mrs. H. A. McCormick, was tried yesterday afternoon on the towhead, just above the city.

The magistrate presiding was Justice W. M. Powell, of Wickliffe, Ky., and the case was heard and decided by a jury of six men, all of Ballard county, Ky. The entire afternoon was consumed in trying the suit. L. M. Bradley of this city and John Wickliffe of Wickliffe, Ky., were counsel for the Casey heirs and Judge Dick Lightfoot of Paducah appeared for Mrs. McCormick, the defendant. The jury deliberated only about five minutes and returned a verdict for the plaintiffs.

Mrs. McCormick took immediate steps for an appeal to the circuit court of Ballard county, Ky., by executing an appeal bond.

O. L. Bartlett, the hoop factory man of this city, signed the bond of the appellee-defendant. According to the law in such cases, Mrs. McCormick may remain the occupant of the little house until the case is decided in the higher court, which convenes in Wickliffe in January next, provided she prosecutes her suit with effect; but the Casey heirs still retain and will exercise complete control of the land and the chute. The appeal bond is made to insure the owners of the property against any damage it might sustain by being improperly used or any loss that might occur through the actions of the appellee, between the present and the term time of the circuit court. There was an article in a local paper, in the issue of last week, that somewhat harshly criticized Mr. R. B. Cotter, agent for the Casey heirs, as to threatening language which it was alleged he used relative to the property in controversy. The public should be apprised of the fact that Mr. Cotter made no threats—by phone or otherwise—and did nothing or said nothing that would reflect adversely on any reputable citizen. The newspaper article referred to put into circulation rumors that did Mr. Cotter gross injustice, and it is but simple fairness to him that he be placed in a proper light. The foregoing was fully verified by the evidence given for both litigants at the trial.

MUST GIVE UP CASEY TOWHEAD

THAT'S THE DECISION OF BALLARD COUNTY JURY AT WICKLIFFE, KY., AGAINST MRS. H. A. MCCORMICK.

It is presumed that the children, while playing with matches, started the fire, and when the flames began to spread, went into the closet, closed the door and were suffocated.

His Expression of Mourning. A boy was engaged in kite flying when he was approached by an elderly lady, who said reproachfully, "Why, Tommy, couldn't you manage to do without kite flying on the day of your poor father's funeral?" "Oh, it's all right, Mrs. —," replied Tommy, reassuringly. "It's a mourning kite. I fitted a black tail to it this morning."—Kansas City Independent.

W. W. WILLIAMS NAME GOES ON

the Republican secretary of state, they withdrew and organized a "rump convention," and nominated Walter Williams and A. M. Brownlee for the legislature. They did not nominate a candidate for the senate. Mr. Williams then filed with the secretary of state an objection to his name appearing on the ticket with that of Brownlee. And Mr. Rose, secretary of state, decided he would appoint a court to settle the matter. He selected five circuit judges in this section of the state to hear the case, not overlooking the point to see that a good majority of the judges were Republicans.

The sitting was in Cairo, and the Republican judges, to a man, decided that the "rump" convention was regular. (Your average Republican office holder generally knows how to decide when his party can derive a dishonest advantage.) By this decision the nomination of T. B. Espey for senator was knocked out and Brownlee and Williams were running against each other with a chance of accomplishing the main object—the prevention of Walter W. Williams going to the legislature. Then Mr. Jas. A. Rose, the secretary of state, showed his hand. He decided that Mr. Williams' name could not appear on the official ballot at all, for the absurd and preposterous reason that Mr. Williams had objected to the ticket named by the "rump" convention. Even though he was the nominee of both conventions his name could not get on, said Rose.

Mr. Williams then applied to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus compelling the secretary of state to certify Mr. Williams' name as a candidate for the legislature. And at Springfield yesterday the supreme court granted the application.

The writ was served on the secretary of state and he certified to the county clerks of this district the name of Walter W. Williams to be placed in the official ballot.

And this is the sort of politics the men plays who want to fill the shoes of Stephen A. Douglas, John A. Logan, John M. Palmer and Shelby M. Cullom. Yates has defeated the efforts of the Democrats of this district to have a candidate for the state senate. But when he tried to cheat the Democratic party out of what the law of the state allows it—one representative—he fell down.

It is the duty of all good Democrats to vote for Walter W. Williams. He went to the regular convention with a clean cut majority of the delegates and was nominated by them. Mr. Brownlee is not in any sense the nominee and is not considered as such by anyone except the few "rumpists" who nominated him, and by Gov. Richard Yates and James A. Rose, who would no doubt be very glad to see him elected.

Will Keep Away Moshs. A good perfume for putting among clothes in drawers or cupboards and one that will keep the moths away is made of one ounce of cedar, one ounce of rhubarb and one ounce of cloves pulverized together. Put the powder between cotton wool and tie it in bags.
